76419-01 Seminar

Africa, Method, Theory

23 October Stephanie Zehnle
06 November Michelle Moyd
13 November Aymar Bisoka
27 November Łukasz Stanek
2026

Lecturers

Fridays, irregular

How does current research grounded in Africa decenter the perspectives from which we understand knowledge production?

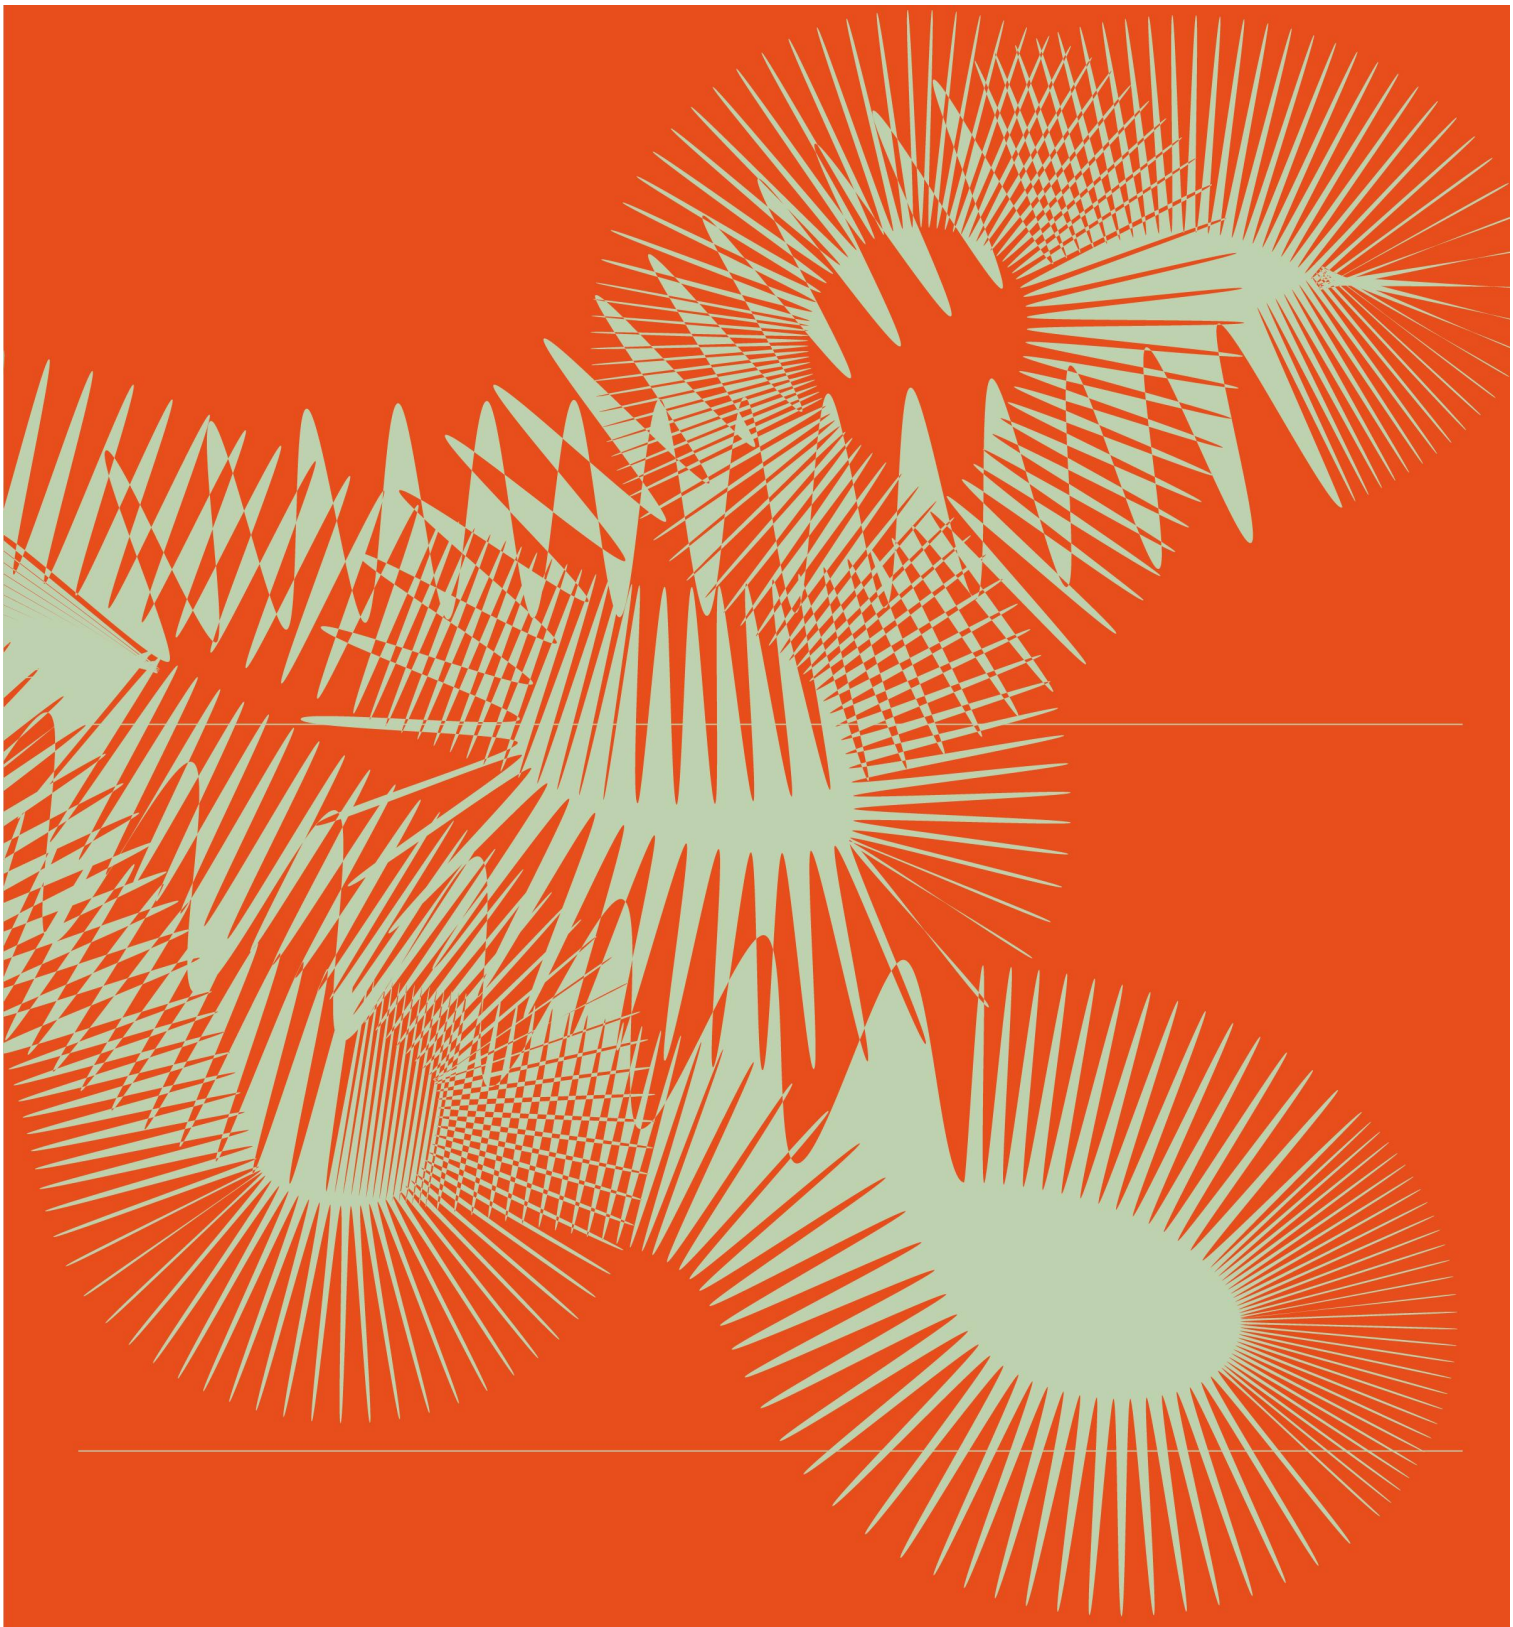
Kenny R. Cupers
kenny.cupers@unibas.ch

Marie Muschalek
marie.muschalek@unibas.ch

Julia Tischler
julia.tischler@unibas.ch

Critical Urbanisms

Urban Studies, University of Basel
Hebelstr. 3, 4056 Basel, Switzerland



Organized by Julia Tischler (African History), Kenny Cupers (Urban Studies), and Marie Muschalek (African History), this course explores how current research grounded in Africa decenters the perspectives from which we understand knowledge production in urban studies, history, anthropology, and related fields. The course format facilitates in-depth engagement with an invited scholar's research-in-progress, and through it, a discussion of theoretical and methodological approaches amongst the participants.